Florida Votes 4 to 1 for Dry Law Repeal

NOT ONE COUNTY IN STATE IS DRY IN REPEAL TEST

Count Is 75,523 to 17,542 With More Than Half of Precincts Counted; Dry Leader's Precinct Goes Wet.

ONLY THREE MORE STATES ARE NEEDED

Peninsular State Is 33rd Consecutive Victory for Wets; Rural Counties Vote Repeal.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Florida today became the thirty-third state to vote for repeal of the eighteenth amendment, the wets leading by approximately 4-1 to 1, with nearly half of the state's precincts counted.

With the vote tabulated from 749 of the 1,273 voting places in the state the count stood: For repeal, 75,523; against, 17,542. Incomplete returns had been received from 52 of the state's 67 counties.

The repeals started off early with a landslide, first showing a lead of 8 to 1 that steadily dwindled, but the wets never came close enough to leave any doubt as to the outcome.

The home precinct of W. K. Whitfield, head of the United Prohibition Forces of Florida, cast 121 votes for repeal and 85 against repeal in today's referendum.

Not a single county showed a dry majority and in only five was the vote close.

In all the cities, the repeals piled up huge majorities, ranging from nearly 10 to 1 to 2 to 1, with the vote nearly complete.

Jacksonville and Tampa and their counties gave almost 10-to-1 margins for repeal. The vote in Miami and its county was running about 5-to-1. A few of the rural counties showed likelihood of going for the dry ticket, but the vote in these was far from being complete.

VIRGINIA REPEAL MARGIN IS SLIGHTLY ABOVE 40,000

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 10.—(AP)—The majority for repeal of the eighteenth amendment rolled up in the October 3 referendum in Virginia was 40,242 votes, the official state canvass revealed today.

Complete official returns gave for repeal 40,438 votes as against 58,517 votes in opposition.

Voters in the same election favored a plan of liquor control in Virginia by 100,445 as against 57,873 votes for continuance of state prohibition.

MINNESOTA CONVENTION VOTE CASTS RATIFICATION

ST. PAUL, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Minnesota became today the 25th state to give formal approval to repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

In a session lasting less than 15 minutes 21 convention delegates named by Minnesota voters at the special September 22 election ratified the 21st amendment. The 21 were pledged to vote for repeal.

Cafe Owner Is Ordered To Surrender Blue Eagle

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Theodore G. Rabutis, Gary (Ind.) restaurant proprietor, tonight was ordered by Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, to surrender his Blue Eagle. This was the first action of this kind taken by the NRA.

At the same time Johnson announced that similar action would be taken immediately against flagrant violators of the president's re-employment agreement in other sections of the country.

The recovery administration said that every one of Rabutis' 40 employees had complained that the restaurant was violating both the maximum hours and minimum wages provisions of his agreement. In one case it was charged that an employee was forced to work 21 hours in two days at a rate of 14 cents an hour.

U. S. TO CONSTRUCT LOW-COST HOUSES TO ABOLISH SLUMS

Roosevelt Also Presses Plans for Early Reopening of Closed Banks in Rehabilitation Drive.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Administration plans for reopening banks, liberalizing credit and building low-cost homes moved rapidly under presidential pressure today and official word was given that important financial announcements might be expected in a few days.

President Roosevelt sped the new program to handle distressed banks in separate discussions with various government heads and later laid the whole rough draft before his executive council, including the cabinet.

In stride with the forward push, Secretary Ickes disclosed that he was considering plans for setting up a new corporation to handle distressed banks, leasing and sale of low-cost housing projects on a vast scale throughout the country.

Articles of incorporation have been drafted, Ickes said, which would authorize the corporation to go into long-term contracts for the construction and sale of low-cost housing, and build houses to be sold or rented, with the proceeds being used to repay the treasury for the expenses involved.

It was indicated several hundred million dollars might be spent on this project with the object of making available thousands of low-cost homes, abolishing slums and providing work.

A few details of the new corporation were given today by Mr. Roosevelt in the round of White House parleys, although it was disclosed officially that a proposed new government institution to get funds in closed banks into the hands of depositors was one of the matters discussed.

Legal Puzzles.

A detailed announcement of the new set-up was given by some of the president's callers to be delaying the bank reopening plan.

A detailed announcement of this arrangement had been expected tomorrow, but J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency, the first of a series of callers, told news that the plan was certain it would not be made public until later.

Attorney-General Cummings and a counsel for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation discussed with Mr. Roosevelt the legal points and the powers of the Reconstruction Corporation to issue and buy securities.

Credit policies also figured in conferences with Henry Morgenthau Jr., governor of the farm credit administration, and his counsel, George L. Harrison, governor of the New York Federal Reserve bank, was another White House visitor.

Hatch Named Senator From New Mexico

SANTA FE, N. M., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Carter A. Hatch, of Nevada, a former district judge, was appointed today by Governor A. W. Hockenbush as United States senator to succeed Sam G. Bratton, who resigned to become federal circuit judge.

Ford Told Him to Dress Shabbily To Aid 'Deal', Leland Claims in Suit

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Although Henry Ford's deposition said he agreed to buy the Lincoln Motor Car Company merely to please his son and show sympathy for the founders of the concern, Wilfred C. Leland Sr. testified today that the automobile magnate advised him to wear old clothes and go unshaven during secret negotiations.

Leland, former president of the Lincoln concern, testified in a civil suit that Ford was very much interested in the purchase in 1922 and promised to assume all obligations of the bankrupt concern as well as pay $5,000,000 for it. This was denied in the depositions of Ford and his son, Edsel.

"He said he would supply the money to pay creditors and stockholders in full," Leland testified today the senior Ford. "He also said he didn't want the matter to become public, telling me to continue negotiations with two groups, but not to commit myself."

"He also told me to wear old clothes and to go two or three days

WORKS FUND PLEA TO BE MADE TODAY BEFORE PRESIDENT

Ickes To Sit in on Advisory Board's Conference With Roosevelt at White House on Tied-Up Loan.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The Georgia public works advisory board will meet here tomorrow with President Roosevelt in the hope of finding a way by which the state can share in the $3,300,000,000 public works fund despite the limitations against incurring obligations.

And with them will be Secretary Ickes, public works administrator, who so far has stood firm against waiving requirements for bonds and security for loans from this fund.

The secretary said at Washington today that he planned to sit in the conference if other matters were not too pressing.

The president alone has the authority to waive the usual requirements for securities for these loans. He was given this power by an amendment to the public works bill, which the president signed in Georgia. He can waive the usual requirements if he so desires for those states whose constitutional limitations otherwise would prohibit them from participating.

The appointment with the president for 11:30 a. m. at the White House today will be the first of a series of public works board of Georgia will be present in a body and will be accompanied by Henry T. McIntosh, of Albany, regional advisor, and Marion Smith, an Atlanta attorney. The members of the board are: Thomas J. Hamilton, of Augusta, chairman; Ryburn G. Clay and Arthur Lucas, of Atlanta. Charles H. Coe, secretary of the board, also will attend.

Applications totaling approximately $100,000,000 for loans for the public works fund are pending and the president's action will decide whether a great majority of these will be granted. Unless he liberalizes the requirements or some satisfactory solution is found, the majority of these applications cannot be granted.

A precedent was set last week for the use of highway refund certificates as collateral for these loans when Clark county was granted a loan by pledging its certificates.

There are some $25,000,000 of the certificates outstanding. They were used by the state to refund bonds for work done on roads that are now a part of the state system.

However, under a constitutional amendment, the certificates must first be used to liquidate any outstanding bonds against road or bridge projects built by the counties under the refunding agreement with the state.

Four Persons Killed In Calif. Strike Riots

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Oct. 10.—(UP)—At least four men were killed today in clashes between strikers and striking field workers in the heart of California's agricultural district.

Two strikers were known dead and several other combatants seriously injured as a result of a hand-to-hand battle in the Arvin district, 20 miles southeast of here.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The personal denial of Mary Pickford that she plans Mexican divorce proceedings against Douglas Fairbanks was added today to other denials of yesterday's El Paso report that she would file suit soon at Juarez.

Georgia To Open Five Bureaus To Aid Transient Unemployed

Social workers and relief agencies in Georgia, who long have sought a solution of the problem of the transient unemployed, Tuesday approached their task with the optimism engendered by a special federal grant of $15,000 for a concerted attack on one of the gravest of social problems.

In awarding $15,000 to the special relief bureau, which Ronald Ransom, Atlanta banker, is head, Harry L. Hopkins, federal emergency relief administrator, said in Washington that the allotment was made for the purpose of organizing and operating of transient service bureaus for a month. Further grants for the purpose will depend on the preliminary experience of these bureaus.

With Hopkins' announcement, the Georgia relief commission put the finishing touches on its state-wide plan to open five transient relief bureaus in Atlanta, Columbus, Augusta, Macon and Savannah. Major J. A. Fynn, formerly of the Salvation Army, will have charge of the work among transients under the supervision of Miss Gay B. Sheppardson, who is assistant to Mr. Ransom. The Georgia commission is charged with carrying out these instructions of the federal relief administrator.

Revolt In Tammany Imperils Tiger's Brooklyn Stronghold

District Leaders Demand McCooley Break With O'Brien or Resign Position as Borough Boss.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Backers of the independent majority candidacy of Joseph V. McKee today threatened to end the Brooklyn democratic leadership of John H. McCooley unless he agreed to break with Tammany Hall and renounce Mayor John P. O'Brien.

McCooley, Tammany's principal ally, temporarily checked the insurrection of a group of his direct leaders by calling a meeting of the borough executive committee to decide which of two candidates should be supported.

With the anti-Tammany revolt spreading, it was believed in some quarters the committee would force a declaration by McKee and McCooley's 22 years of dominance of Brooklyn democracy.

However, McKee, who missed the mayor's formal notification ceremonies at city hall as he fought to hold his organization intact, reiterated support of Mayor O'Brien and the rest of the regular democratic ticket.

"The committee will be called to pass on this whole McKee situation," said McKee, apparently weary but still warring, his perennial motto, "I am sure of that."

McCooley backed the open split in Brooklyn, which has the heaviest vote of the city's five boroughs. Loss of Brooklyn would be a blow to O'Brien's chances and would leave Tammany with Manhattan the only county united, they pointed out. The Bronx organization switched to McKee last week and defections were increasing in Queens.

Francis J. Sinnott, Brooklyn postmaster, and Aaron L. Jacoby, organization nominee for register of deeds, joined the long list of insurgent democrats who have paraded into the McKee camp.

"Our party needs a new leader in New York," said Sinnott, a powerful Brooklyn party worker. "The candidacy of McKee brings forth, from the very ranks of our democratic party, a sensible and decisive, an experienced and popular leader, who has proven that he has the courage of his convictions."

Meanwhile, McKee answered the charge by Fiorello H. La Guardia, fusion candidate, and Samuel Seabury, fusion strategist, that his recovery party was a reservoir for disgruntled politicians.

"This I cannot make too emphatic," said McKee as the group of insurgent democrats embracing his candidacy mounted. "I shall not appoint to public office or retain in office any political leader because he has come out or declared for me."

He plans a reorganization of the government in the five counties comprising the city—pledging himself to go to the legislature for authority to

KELLY, WINKLER, LINKED IN GANG AT KIDNAP TRIAL

Witness Tells of Effort of Kelly To Meet Chicago Crime Overlord Slain by Mobsters.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 10.—(AP)—The government today presented George (Machine Gun) Kelly and his wife, Kathryn, as a couple who hid behind the skirts of a young girl for protection, were connected with Gus Winkler, slain Chicago gangster, and considered the kidnapping of four men before deciding on Charles F. Urschel.

W. A. Rorer, department of justice agent, said Kelly told him Urschel, Frank Johnson, president of the First National bank, John A. Brown, department store owner, and M. K. Goetz, St. Joseph (Mo.) brewer, were considered as victims but the three were discarded because the kidnappers did not believe they could raise the ransom quickly.

As the government completed its direct evidence it sought, in Victor Kathryn as a complacent accomplice to the kidnapping.

Rorer, who headed the raiding party that captured the Kellys after little Geraldine had returned to Oklahoma City and told federal officers of their whereabouts, linked the Kellys with Gus Winkler, Chicago gangster killed yesterday, and Vera Miller, missing desperado sought for the Kansas City Union station massacre.

Miller agreed to link Urschel and Walter Jarrett if Kelly was caught and convicted. Rorer said Kelly told him Jarrett was the Oklahoma City oil man who yesterday had been sentenced to the electric chair for the murder of the night of the abduction.

Rorer said Kelly told him he endeavored to arrange a meeting with Winkler to exchange some of the money for ready cash, but that Winkler told him over the telephone: "I wouldn't be seen with you for $100,000."

Kathryn was quoted by one witness as exclaiming with reference to Urschel.

"The witness was Mrs. Luther Arnold, wife of a hitch-hiker hired by Mrs. Kelly to retain an attorney to defend her mother, Mrs. R. G. Shannon, who yesterday was sentenced to the electric chair for the murder of the night of the abduction.

Later, 12-year-old Geraldine Arnold, the woman's daughter, testified George Kelly threatened to kill her father, Judge Edgar S. Vaughn, Urschel and the prosecutors in the trial of Mrs. Shannon and six others who were convicted 10 days ago.

Letting the case rest on Urschel and his family and to the Shannons for "squealing" to the Kellys were identified by a handwriting expert as the handwriting of Kathryn, Urschel told her fingerprints on one of them.

"That ought to knock 'em over," she quoted George as saying when he posted the letters.

"If it doesn't do any good, maybe"

"Medium" Courtships Are Reported as Best

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—(AP)—University of Chicago scientists have come to the conclusion that either extremely long or unusually short courtships end in the same way—in matrimonial difficulties.

They came to this conclusion by studying the answers of 6,000 married couples to questionnaires.

There's a considerable hazard in courtships lasting less than three months and great risks in those that drag along for more than five years.

From three to five years was held to be an ideal length of time. College graduates were given a 25 per cent better chance for happiness in marriages than persons with eighth grade educations.

Couples living in cities, the investigators concluded, find it more difficult to adjust themselves to married life than do their country cousins.

SUBSIDIARIES LOST, DILLON ESCAPED, FIGURES INDICATE

Senate Stock Probers Hear Report of Dumping Weak Stocks Upon Controlled Trusts.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—A jigsaw pattern of evidence to show that directors of two Dillon, Read & Co. investment trusts dumped in their portfolios stocks on which heavy losses were taken was fitted together before the senate banking committee today by Ferdinand Pecora, counsel in its stock market inquiry.

In close questioning of E. B. Tracy, president of the trusts, the United States and Foreign and the United States and International Securities Corporations, Pecora brought out that holdings of the latter fell off $200,000 since 1929, and that $11,000,000 of the depreciation had been in two railroad stocks.

Charles Hayden, a director, was chairman of the board of one road, the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific, and E. H. Ecker, a trust director, was a director of the other line, the St. Louis & San Francisco.

Above Market.

Tracy said that he was an officer or director of seven companies whose stock was in the portfolios of the International Trust as of December 31, 1932, with a cost price listed there of $200,000. He said that the value of these in the company's portfolio was around $4,000,000. Tracy agreed that their present value was considerably less than that. He said 100,000 shares of the Louisville and Nashville, which he had purchased, cost $278,000 and had a market value December 31 of $75,000.

Sold in Large Blocks.

Pecora developed that large blocks of the railroad stocks were sold by Dillon, Read & Co. to the investment trusts, bringing out that although it sold to the United States Foreign Trust it subsequently was bought by the United States and International.

The counsel announced that subpoena had been served on H. C. Hopson, executive vice president of Associated Gas & Electric Co., by federal officials at Chicago ending several weeks of efforts to bring him before the committee.

Pecora explained that the committee wanted to go into books described as accounts of private corporations that were directed by Hopson in addition to the Associated Gas & Electric. In assuming the inquiry into the investment trust, Pecora presented a provision of the original charter of the United States and Foreign Corporation, in which the public investment of $25,000,000. The charter exempted

UNITED AIRLINES PLANE EXPLODES AND CATCHES FIRE

Three Passengers and Four Members of Crew Burned as Heat of Blaze Drives Back All Who Attempt Rescue.

CHESTERTON, Ind., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Seven persons were killed tonight when a United Airlines transport airplane crashed in flames on the James Smiley farm, five miles southeast of here.

Deputy sheriffs reported five bodies were removed from the plane and that at least two others were trapped in the smoldering wreckage.

Witnesses on the Smiley farm said that the crash apparently was preceded by an explosion.

They heard the drone of a transport plane, they said, and went to the window to watch it. A blinding flash occurred, they said, and the ship crashed to the ground.

At Chicago offices of the United Airlines, it was announced that the company's regular transport plane en route from New York to that city was missing. The United plane was due at 8:55 p. m., central standard time, and carried a pilot, co-pilot, stewardess, radio man and three passengers.

Witnesses said all in the plane were trapped and that flames prevented rescue attempts.

Ambulances were rushed to the scene from Valparaiso and from Chesterton. Air line officials said the following passengers:

—Kennell, of Cleveland.
—Burris, a radio operator employed by the company.
—The pilot was H. R. Tarrant, of Oak Park, Ill.; the co-pilot, A. T. Ruby, Chicago, and Miss Olive Schrieber, Chicago, was the stewardess.

GRAPHS.

Graphs and endocrine glands seem to have something to do with everything in the world, including each other. I have never seen a graph of a gland or a gland within a gland, but I shall not be surprised when they do show up. Graphs are most useful in showing everything that can be imagined. In recent months graphs have been employed with more joy than in preceding months by the economists and financiers. You know—those chain lightning streaks that have been running from the upper left hand to the lower right hand of those charts on the walls of the board rooms all over the country. Right now I am constructing a graph to show the influence of mean temperature and precipitation on the calling of the swamp cricket frog last December and January. And I have used them to show the variation in the skull length of little brown bats, and the correlation of this measurement with condylobasal length of the skull as a factor. What good is all this detailed analysis, you will ask. Is it really worth the trouble? Does it mean anything?

Yes, it does. It means that the more we apply the principles of mathematical analysis to the wide variations that exist in Nature, the nearer biological sciences will approach the status of exact sciences. While there will never be the beautiful predictable precision of mathematics in zoology, which really is one of the charms of that science, there are many confusing things that can be cleared up by the use of mathematical methods.

For example, will the statement that the cricket frogs call most freely at 78 degrees Fahrenheit compare with the curves that show exactly the correlation of calling and temperature. Did you know that you can count the crepitations in a frog call and tell the temperature within two or three degrees? It is true.

Roosevelttown Spends In Prosperity Campaign

ROOSEVELTTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 10.—(AP)—The hamlet of Roosevelttown is sprucing up in the expectation of better times.

The opening of a new bridge across the St. Lawrence into Canada next month is the incentive to the movement, for residents hope it will become an important focal point for tourists.

The name Roosevelttown was recently acquired, born of the promise of a new deal for the village. It was formerly known as Nynada, inspired by the New York and Ontario railroad which first gave the village life.

The villagers plan a new hotel, new church, paved streets and a new lighting system.

To understand the relationship of frogs with frogs. Other means are used to determine the position of the frogs in relation to other vertebrates. And after centuries of such work, we are going to be in a position to know something about the new mysterious machinations of evolution. Let's just be a bit more precise.

MOVIES AND 3.2 BEER
PLAYED BY BAPTISTS

Association Hits 'Baneful Influence' of Films, Opposes Sunday Amusements.

Deploping conditions in Atlanta which "perpetrate the sale of 3.2 beer" and the "baneful influence" of motion pictures, the Atlanta Baptist Association, meeting at the First Baptist church Tuesday, went on record as being opposed to the sale of beer, Sunday baseball, Sunday theaters and Sunday moving pictures. The resolution was presented by W. W. Gaines, Atlanta attorney, and charged that a "general spirit of lawlessness" prevailed in the city.

Hope was expressed that Georgia will retain its bone dry law despite the repeal of the eighteenth amendment and an educational campaign to teach temperance and total abstinence was suggested. "If a person has a right to select what laws he will observe and what laws he will defy, that is selective anarchy," the Gaines resolution said.

G. Frank Garrison, of the Capitol Avenue Baptist church, read the report of the executive committee, serving in the absence of Dr. Ellis A. Fuller, pastor of the First Baptist. The association is made up of 74 churches with a combined membership of 42,000. Another session will be held today with Dr. Ellis A. Fuller presiding, and Dr. M. E. Dodd, president of the Southern Baptist convention, will deliver the feature address at 11 o'clock this morning. The talk will be broadcast over radio station WGST.

Another featured speaker on the morning program will be Dr. J. E. Sammons, of Macon, president of the Georgia Baptist Association, who will speak at 9 o'clock on "State Missions."

HUMPHRIES REVERSED

IN SUIT FOR RECEIVER

The state supreme court Tuesday reversed the decision of Judge John D. Humphries in approving a receiver for the Globe & Rutgers Fire Insurance Company, holding that the claim of the Salvation Army of Georgia, Inc., did not show that the claimant had suffered a loss.

The Salvation Army petitioned Judge Humphries to appoint a receiver alleging that it had $1,230 in unearned claims with the company which had been placed in receivership in New York.

The high court held that in as much as the claim was unearned at the time of the filing of the petition the lower court should have sustained the insurance company demurrer. The receivership was dissolved in the supreme court order.

TENNESSEAN INDICTED IN BURNING OF FAMILY

LAFOLLETTE, Tenn., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Floyd Johnson, filling station operator, was under indictment today on charges of burning his wife and three children to death. The Johnson home burned the night of August 29 and the bodies of Mrs. Johnson and her children were found in the ruins.

"KIDNAPED" CHILD, 8, FOUND WITH MOTHER

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Raymond Jacquith, 8, reported to state police yesterday as having been kidnaped from the village school of Hammond, near here, today had been found at Sandy Creek, near Pulaski, with his mother, Mrs. Merrill Jacquith, of Syracuse.

Al Smith Starts Slums Demolition

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(AP)—A lower East Side boy who grew up to be governor and presidential candidate, Alfred E. Smith, struck the first blow today in the demolition of "lung block," a tenement area so called because of its high tuberculosis mortality. The dank tenements will be replaced by a modern, low-rent apartment development, financed partly by federal loans.

Using a golden hammer, Smith drove a golden wedge between the bricks of a wall at Market and Cherry streets, saying, "This really is the garden spot of the city. . . . It should prove as fine as Park Avenue is now."

Trouble ahead
for this child

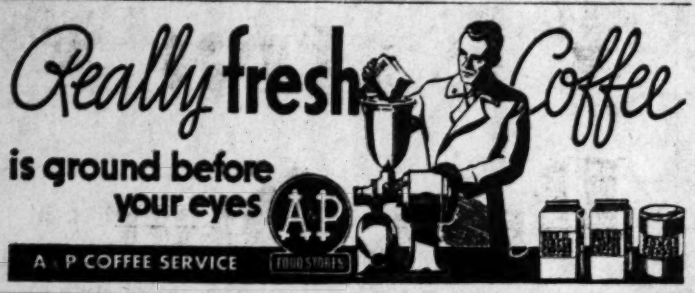

if proper laxative information is not given

HAPPY and healthy your child may be today. Everything seems to be in his favor. But in the majority of cases there's trouble ahead. Some foods are constipating—good, nutritious foods, too! Some children require more water than others, or more exercise. Some have sharper "kinks" in their intestines than others. Some are just bashful about the whole subject. They "hold back" and develop irregular habits.

That's the surest way to avoid dangerous irritation. It's the way to be sure that the laxative you are taking is safe.

Don't make the mistake of using ordinary laxatives for children just because they are sweet and easy to take. Avoid laxatives that are too concentrated in their action.

OLIN T. LESTER SR., 67,
ATLANTA LAWYER, DIES

Olin T. Lester Sr., 67, a widely known attorney with offices in the Atlanta National Bank building, died Tuesday night at his residence, 302 Sterling street, N. E. He had been ill about 10 days.

A native of Culloden, Ga., and a practicing lawyer for 40 years, Mr. Lester had been a resident of Atlanta for a quarter of a century. He was a member of Epworth Methodist church and also a member of the Chi Phi fraternity and the Knights of Pythias.

Surviving him are his wife; two sons, Olin T. Lester Jr., also an Atlanta attorney, and Howard Lester, of Atlanta; two daughters, Miss Mabel Lester and Mrs. H. C. Ediger; a sister, Mrs. Eva Matthews, and two brothers, the Rev. Artemus Lester, of College Park, and R. A. Lester, of Atlanta.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by H. M. Patterson & Son.

New Ether Substitute
Perfected by Doctors

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—(P)—A new anesthetic gas, which relaxes patients as completely as ether, was described to the Congress of Anaesthetists here today by University of Wisconsin experimenters.

The gas, said Dr. J. A. Stiles and Dr. W. B. Neff, of Wisconsin General hospital, is not unpleasant to take, seems to have no harmful effect on the heart, and has few uncomfortable after effects. It is "cyclopropane," and was developed, they explained, by Professor V. E. Henderson and Professor George H. W. Lucas, of Toronto.

It has been used in about 230 operations in the Wisconsin hospital, they said. At present the gas is extremely expensive.

A low-pressure gas, cyclopropane, seems to be less inflammable than other vapor anesthetics, the experimenters said.

The difference between the Southern Bell Telephone Company's valuation of its Georgia properties for rate-making and for tax-paying purposes was aired Tuesday at the Georgia public service commission's investigation into the company's telephone rates.

Edward Lyle, tax commissioner for the Southern Bell, said the company had an investment of $36,500,000 in Georgia in 1933, and returned its property for taxation at $14,262,000.

Lyle's method of arriving at this figure was questioned sharply by Assistant Attorney-General John T. Gore, but Lyle said that whereas the average tax returns showed Georgia real estate was returned for taxes at 35 per cent of its real value, the telephone company used a figure of 40 per cent "to be more than fair."

He said the topic of investment was not discussed by him when he talked over his tax return with the comptroller-general of Georgia.

"You mean you do not show the investment when you go to him to make out your tax return?" asked Gore.

"No, sir, not unless he demands them."

Chairman Jud P. Wilhoit said the manner the telephone company made its tax return was not a controlling factor in fixing rates. The chairman said the company's return was in saying the evidence had been discussed only as a circumstance. It was explained in an informal discussion that the taxes constituted a part of operating expense, and that operating expenses were considered in determining the rate paid by telephone customers.

Much of the day was given over to technical testimony of Luke Hill, inventory and costs engineer for the Southern Bell. Hill read from a 41-page written statement concerning the technical methods of arriving at depreciation figures. Occasionally he was questioned by Gore.

Chairman Wilhoit announced the present hearing would recess after Friday of this week, until the week of October 23, when the Southern Bell case is expected to be completed. On Thursday and Friday of this week, various municipalities served by the Southern Bell will be given an opportunity to be heard. On October 18 the commission will hear from two smaller telephone companies, one operating at Milledgeville, and the other at Canton and Jasper.

Between the recess this week-end, and October 23, the commission and its experts will study charts and other exhibits already presented by the Southern Bell.

BRITON OUTLINES WAR DEBT VIEWS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(P)—A plan of radically altered world economic conditions, unforeseen when war debt settlements were made, was advanced today by Great Britain as justification for the reduction she hopes to obtain from the United States.

Beyond this, Sir Frederick Leith Ross, spokesman for the London government, emphatically expounded the argument that the loans made to his country before and after the armistice were not commercial in character, but a matter of necessity and was used for war purposes.

Sir Frederick began with the origin of the debts and traced their history. There was no suggestion of what the London government might have in mind to offer as a basis of settlement.

Sir Frederick stressed that the British government made extensive purchases of American goods during the war, amounting roughly to more than $12,000,000,000 before America entered the conflict.

Just before America entered the war, the British capacity to make additional purchases here was virtually exhausted, but with the Washington government an active ally, the situation was changed. The question of how Great Britain was to carry on was solved by loans from the United States treasury.

These could not be regarded as commercial loans, he said. They were a matter of necessity. They were used to pay for materials already bought, and to buy additional war supplies, largely munitions. These were put to their intended destructive use and so cannot be said to have any continuing capital value.

The British spokesman then turned to a comparison of the settlement given his country with that accorded other debtor allies at a later date. On the basis of the 1923 funding agreement, he said, Great Britain would be repaying 90 per cent of all money advanced, while the French were let off with a 62 per cent payment, and the Italians with 34 per cent.

Forty per cent of American advances to allied nations went to the London government, he added, while 80 per cent of what the United States has received in repayment has come from Great Britain.

The Briton also told the American officials that during the war his government advanced 1,600,000,000 pounds, nearly $8,000,000,000 at the then current rates of exchange to its allies.

All they have paid in return, he said, has been passed on to the United States except $130,000,000. Before the war, he said, the British and American public debts were approximately the same, while during the conflict the British debt increased by a much greater proportion than did that of the Washington government.

by calling at any of the co-operating stores and asking for the contest card. You need not make purchases to obtain it, for it is given absolutely free. While you are in the stores, talk with the managers to get an idea of the merchandise they carry.

You can use pencil, pen or typewriter in writing your ad. To illustrate it, you may clip pictures and paste them on the paper in the spaces you wish them. Try to make your ad as original as possible, for that is what counts.

Remember, the more advertisements you enter each week, the better your chance is of winning a prize. If your ad doesn't win a weekly prize it still has a chance, for the best prizes of all will be awarded at the end of the contest. Every advertisement entered during the entire contest will be judged for the sweepstakes prizes.

Because you have never written advertisements before, don't hesitate to start now. Only amateurs are eligible in this contest, so you have just as good a chance as the other fellow. Ability, heretofore unknown, may be discovered in you, and what a future you would possess in the advertising profession!

Road Work to Assist Former Service Men

Former service men are to be given preference on jobs in the great highway building program which is to be launched in Georgia within a few weeks, it was announced Tuesday.

After a series of conferences it was made known that Cator Woolford, director of the National Re-Employment Service, will cooperate with government labor agencies in every section of the state. It is planned, if possible, to hire as many local people on each job, that is labor for each project will be recruited from the area around that project.

The road program has been approved by Washington officials and it is expected that the highway board will issue a call for bids on the first projects within a few days.

Mr. Woolford himself will not be in direct charge of placing the jobs but will co-operate with government labor agencies in every section of the state. It is planned, if possible, to hire as many local people on each job, that is labor for each project will be recruited from the area around that project.

The road program has been approved by Washington officials and it is expected that the highway board will issue a call for bids on the first projects within a few days.

Flagship of Byrd Will Sail Today

BOSTON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd announced tonight his flagship, the steamer Jacob Ruppert, would sail from its navy yard pier tomorrow morning on the first leg of the trip to the Antarctic.

The ballast needed to keep the ship propeller low in the water was nearly all loaded tonight and the crew assembled for the start.

The rechristened Pacific Fir, will stop at Bayonne, N. J., and Norfolk, Va., for fuel and additional ballast before proceeding to the Panama Canal Zone and the ship's base in Dundee, N. Z.

Admiral Byrd will join the ship at some southern port.

Meanwhile, at Southport, N. C., Captain Robert A. J. English, master of the Byrd Antarctic barkentine Bear of Oakland, which has been tied up here since last week, said tonight the vessel would clear Wednesday afternoon for Norfolk to go into dry-dock for a week.

MRS. PAUL KARST DIES AFTER BRIEF ILLNESS

Mrs. Paul D. Karst, 20 years of age, died late Tuesday at the residence, at 304 Hopkins street, S. W., after an illness of a few days. Funeral services will be conducted at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at the Church of the Immaculate Conception. The Rev. Father Joseph E. Moylan will officiate. The place of interment will be announced by Sam Greenberg & Company.

Mrs. Karst is survived by her husband; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Dendy; a sister, Mrs. A. J. Williams, of Chicago, and two brothers, Robert and Jack Dendy.

DR. WALTER D. TOY, CHAPEL HILL, DIES

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Dr. Walter Dillam Toy, head of the department of German and highest member of the faculty of the University of North Carolina, both in age and point of service, died at 8 o'clock here tonight of complications from arthritis. He was 74 years old.

Until about a week ago Dr. Toy had met his classes regularly and he had attended the last meeting of the faculty. His condition suddenly turned worse last night.

DR. H. E. SMITH.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Dr. Herbert E. Smith, 76, professor of chemistry and head of the medical school of Yale University from 1885 to 1910, died in his sleep at his home here last night. He had lived here since 1910, when he was made dean emeritus of Yale and retired.

DAVID L. HEDGES.
NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(AP)—David L. Hedges, business manager of Good Housekeeping magazine, died today after an illness of several weeks. He was 52 years old. His home was in Colonia, N. J.

PREMIER J. D. STEWART.
CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Premier J. D. Stewart, of Prince Edward Island, died tonight.

CROONER IS VICTOR IN "INSULT" ACTION

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 10.—(AP)—A jury decided today that a song crooned into the ear of Mrs. Susan Milward by Don Galvin, vaudeville performer, was not insulting and that Galvin did not intentionally rub his knee against hers, in denying $10,000 damages to Mrs. Milward.

Mrs. Milward, a member of the audience, testified the experience so unnerved her that she almost fainted and suffered shock to her health. The jury, which was instructed to find for her only if the song was insulting or if Galvin intentionally contacted her knee, reached its verdict after only a few minutes' deliberation.

Term Insurance Act Undergoing Test Here

A test case involving the effect of the economy act repealing term insurance where claims had not been previously allowed or payments begun on them, was argued before the United States circuit court of appeals Tuesday and taken under advisement.

The appeal was brought by Mrs. Margaret Shea Lynch, a resident of the Albany district, from the decision of the federal court at Macon, which refused to allow her claim on the insurance carried by her son, Thomas S. Lynch, who died of a service-connected disease in 1924.

The government claimed that this claim was never proved or allowed, and so was barred by the act of March 20, last, which repealed such insurance. John J. McCreary, Macon attorney representing Mrs. Lynch, contended that it was through no fault of his client that the claim had not been approved. It was among 20,000, he said, which were pending when the act was passed.

MOTOR CLUB TO GIVE CUP TO P. T. A. GROUP

Members of the fifth district Parent-Teacher Association at their meeting at 10 o'clock this morning in the Henry Grady hotel, will be shown the safety cup which will be awarded by the Atlanta Motor Club to the district in Georgia reporting the fewest number of accidents caused by accidents, on a percentage basis. Miss Kathleen Mitchell, chairman of the Georgia P. T. A. safety committee, announced Tuesday. The cup is being shown at various district meetings. The award will be made at the meeting of the state P. T. A. in Atlanta next April.

$1,200,000 LOSS CAUSED BY PENSACOLA BLAZE

PENSACOLA, Fla., Oct. 10.—(AP)—Fire, originating in the yard of the Weis-Patterson Lumber Company, raged for four hours here Monday night and did damage estimated by company officials at $1,200,000 before being brought under control.

Fifteen million feet of mahogany and cypress lumber, 30 houses, two filling stations and one store were destroyed. The company's three mills were saved when firemen cut the runways leading from the yards to the mills. No one was injured.

Mercury Rise to 75 Seen for Wednesday

Fair and warmer weather today with no prospect of rain was forecast Tuesday by the weather bureau. Beginning at 50 this morning, the temperature is expected to rise to 75, a summer condition.

The range Tuesday was 48 to 68 degrees. The bureau said it had reports of frost in outlying localities, but had observed none itself. The month started with a temperature about 10 degrees below normal, but warmer conditions are expected. No rain was reported Tuesday or expected today.

SETTLEMENT REACHED IN ALIENATION SUIT

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The $4,000,000 alienation of affections suit of Mrs. Helen Vogel Stern, Park avenue matron, against the wealthy Mrs. Ruth Erlanger Nathan, of Elberon, N. J., was settled late today in secret fashion.

Max D. Steuer, counsel for Mrs. Stern, informed supreme court Justice Samuel Hofstadter that "the difficulties between these two parties have been settled to their entire satisfaction. In view of this, Mrs. Stern wishes to withdraw her suit."

The announcement came after additional witnesses had been summoned to support the complainant's contention of a romance between Mrs. Nathan and handsome Allison L. Stern.

George L. Whiteside, counsel for Mrs. Nathan, told the court the settlement did not involve any payment to Mrs. Stern.

NRA WORK IN SOUTH

Thorough scrutiny of the government's national recovery program as it affects the south will be given at the meeting of the southeastern division of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Atlanta, November 20 and 21, according to L. P. Dickie, manager of the division.

"The meeting will afford southern businessmen and their commercial and trade associations the opportunity to clarify and express their opinions on the progress of the entire recovery program, as well as on the issues which will come up in the next session of congress," Mr. Dickie said.

Hotels Find Beer Hikes Salt Bill, Decreases Furniture Damage Loss

It is a well-known fact that since the beer bill passed it has helped to re-employ thousands of people. Some thousands, however, must have been thrown out of work if the hotel proprietors of the country have encountered the same changed conditions as the Atlanta hotel operators have found since the return of beer in regard to damaged furniture.

Cecil Cannon, proprietor of the Henry Grady, said "our damaged furniture loss has been reduced 50 per cent since the return of beer. Before the return of beer it was nothing to find 25 or 30 dressers or chiffoniers scarred up each morning where guests had opened ginger ale bottles on the edge of them. A long time ago, however, most hotels put bottle openers in the bathroom as a precaution, but after the first or second drink of corn the average guest wouldn't bother about walking to the bathroom and using the bottle opener."

"The guest now knows," said Mr. Cannon, "that they can get as many bottles of beer as they desire served openly to their rooms and most of them are drinking beer instead of hard liquor. Very few empty liquor bottles are found in the rooms when the maids clean the room morning."

The managers of Atlanta's other leading hotels all agreed with Mr. Cannon that the damaged furniture loss was considerably lessened and that persons who usually drank liquor now drink beer.

Whether or not the people who, before the adoption of the beer bill, made their living by repairing damaged hotel furniture have been employed by the salt manufacturers, there is no way of determining. Salt production, however, is up tremendously. Most people like a dash of salt in their beer. One Atlanta wholesaler said "cafes and restaurants who used to buy salt in 5-cent packages and a dozen packages at the time are now buying salt by the barrel. A barrel of salt weighs 280 pounds. Practically all of the wholesalers in Atlanta agreed that they were selling 50 per cent more salt since beer has been back than they were selling before."

If there are any unemployed furniture repairers in Atlanta maybe they can make a connection with some salt manufacturer. Who knows?

PRESIDENT WRITES POPPY DAY PRAISE TO CHAPTER HERE

Hearty and personal endorsement of the annual Forget-Me-Not Day drive of the Betty Harrison Jones chapter, No. 1, D. A. V., to be conducted in Atlanta Friday, October 20, has been given by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in a letter received by Cecil Hall, commander of the chapter.

In his letter which was issued to Captain J. W. McQueen, national commander of the D. A. V., and sent to Mr. Hall, the president said:

"The annual Forget-Me-Not campaign of the Disabled American Veterans is worthy of generous public support.

"There is ample evidence that the use of these contributions in maintaining a free rehabilitation service to assist disabled men in preparation and presentation of their claims has been helpful to both the veteran and the government.

"May I offer my commendation of the stand of your recent national convention at Cincinnati in deciding not to press immediate redemption of the adjusted service certificates until the condition of the treasury warrants such action? Furthermore, I believe the D. A. V. has acted wisely in concentrating its attention to the cause of those whose disabilities are traceable to their war service.

"It is my earnest hope that your Forget-Me-Not campaign will be wholly successful.

(Signed)

"FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT."

Mrs. Henry M. Nicholas, general chairman of the drive is organizing committees from the various organizations composing membership in the Atlanta federation, fifth district federation, the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs and the Parent-Teacher Associations to form an army of mercy which will sell the flowers all over Atlanta the day of the drive. All public buildings, hotels, office buildings and theaters will be in charge of the various committees working for the drive.

Funds from the drive will be used for relief work for the veterans disabled from wartime service.

N. D. STEWART, 60, EX-ATLANTAN, DIES

N. D. Stewart, 60, president of the Moline-Stewart Company, manufacturers of farm implements, and a resident of Atlanta until two years ago, died suddenly Tuesday at his home in Harlingen, Texas. Mr. Stewart transferred his offices to the Texas city after having resided in Atlanta for 12 years.

He and the members of his family were members of the Druid Hills Baptist church here and were widely known. Mr. Stewart is survived by his wife; a daughter, Miss Madge Stewart; a son, N. D. Stewart Jr., of Weslaco, Texas, and a sister, Mrs. Edwin John Landry, of Crawfordville, Georgia.

Friends of the family in Atlanta were not advised late Tuesday whether the funeral would be conducted here or in Harlingen.

CONDITIONS BETTER, SAY RED CROSS HEADS

200 Representatives Express Desire To Aid World War Veterans.

Confidence that prosperity is returning and an "earnest desire to furnish as much relief as possible for World War veterans" was expressed in a meeting of more than 200 Red Cross representatives at the Henry Grady hotel Tuesday. They represented 65 counties and chapters in north Georgia.

With the stated keynote of "meeting to discuss and study new conditions and remedies for human suffering," the delegates were unanimous in their assertion that business conditions already are improving in their communities. The morning session was devoted to methods of handling the roll call "under the new deal."

Meeting in conjunction with the senior Red Cross representative, the junior division assembled more than 50 persons. An address by Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of Atlanta schools, was the feature of their session.

During the luncheon meeting Stone J. Crane, Red Cross official, presented a flag and pennant scroll to Dr. J. C. Dover, chairman of the Rabun county chapter, for doing the best work in the last year's roll call. The county exceeded its quota by 78 per cent.

An outstanding report in the meeting was that of Francis Summerville concerning his venture in Cedarstown, in which 450 families fed themselves from the produce of 28 acres of land they cleared from a swamp.

In addition to the fresh vegetables they ate, 9,000 cans of food were put up for winter use and $800 worth of corn was sold. Another $2,000 was taken in from the sale of huckleberries which members of the colony picked.

The venture was considered one of the most successful undertaken in Red Cross work. Mr. Summerville, who is executive secretary of the Cedarstown chapter, obtained a five-year lease on the land in exchange for clearing it.

The afternoon session was featured by addresses by John M. Slaton Jr., manager of the Atlanta Veterans' bureau, and John T. McMullen, Red Cross liaison officer. Both complimented the Red Cross for its extra energy in relieving the needs of veterans and predicted "great success."

DUAL PERSONALITY SHOWN IN MIRRORS WHICH SPLIT FACE

Human beings have dual natures easily discernible to psychologists, Dr. Julian Pennington, vocational psychologist of Birmingham, told the members of the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon Tuesday at the Ansley hotel. It was the third talk Dr. Pennington has made before the club.

He showed an instrument consisting of a silver mirror which divides photographs in halves. Each half is reflected so as to constitute a whole. Looking on one side of the mirror one sees one personality, on the other an entirely different one.

An aggressive young prize fighter thus mirrored was true to form on one side of the picture, but on the other was disclosed as a shy person afflicted with an inferiority complex.

Dr. Pennington explained that this system was used by corporations to judge the qualifications of prospective employees, or to discover the limitations of existing ones. It also showed where certain employees were misfits in their departments, he explained.

ALMOND'S CONVICTION IS AFFIRMED BY COURT

The state supreme court Tuesday affirmed the conviction and death sentence of Carl Almond, Douglas county slayer of his brother-in-law, Howard Hicks. The court held that the evidence was sufficient to support the verdict and that there were no reversible errors on the part of Judge James R. Hutcheson, of Douglasville, before whom the case was tried early this year.

Almond's attorneys have announced that they will ask Governor Talmadge to commute the sentence to life imprisonment.

Tarheel Squad is 'Geared Up' to Unset Georgia Saturday

Coach 'Robby's' Smart Tricks Baffled New York

Before reaching the Oglethorpe football field the dogs of Coach Harry Robertson could be heard barking briskly.

The coach, whose team beat Manhattan College last week in New York for the only intersectional victory scored by a southern team this year, was walking about the field in his stocking feet, allowing his dogs to roam over the grass and cool out.

It seems that Coach Robertson, a country boy at heart, decided he must dress up for the trip to New York. His size is number ten, but eleven feel so good he wears twelves. But the number twelves confined his dogs too closely at the corners so that blisters developed.

The New York papers were very generous in their praise of the Oglethorpe Petrels. The Manhattan Jaspers never got within the 30-yard line of the Atlanta team. And the Petrels stormed all around and should have scored twice more.

It seems that Coach Robertson has developed something new. He retains his double wing backs but he has put in several double spinners and his backfield hides the ball well.

One writer commented on this deception, saying that Fred Keating, Thurston the Great and other magicians must have played in the Petrel backfield. The ball was rarely to be seen.

Coach Robertson was very modest about it all Tuesday afternoon. His face had a pained look, but this was because of his aching dogs and not because of his team's work. Which looked rather good in the scrimmage. And it was the second team at that.

Every year the Oglethorpe coach comes up with a pretty good football team. And considering his lack of material and the fact that Oglethorpe's wealthy alumni who interest themselves in the education of boys with football talent are few and far between, his record is all the more remarkable.

He beat Chick Meehan Saturday and Chick Meehan has a large amount of material and a lot more facilities for developing a football team than has Harry Robertson.

TARHEELS WILL BE TOUGH.

Far be it from me to be just an old grouch and begin pointing with fear to Georgia's chances in the North Carolina game, but the facts are that Georgia cannot afford to just stand around on the sward of Chapel Hill's playing field next Saturday afternoon.

The Chuck Collins team looked very good in its contest with Vanderbilt. It was especially good with the forward pass. And that, I think, is one of Georgia's weaknesses. The Bulldogs are coming along fast, but they have not yet overcome some of the defensive faults which were inherited from 1932.

The word from Chapel Hill is that coaches were pleased with the team and its showing. And are seeking to gear it up to beat Georgia. Georgia, having been geared up on two successive Saturdays, will have to get going again. The Bulldogs will be the favorites, but the game at Chapel Hill will be a contest.

TECH'S OFFENSIVE BOW SET SATURDAY.

Georgia Tech did not offer a great deal of offensive strength, relatively speaking, in the game with Kentucky. But did show a tremendous defense.

Coaches knew that Kentucky would present a desperate defensive problem because of Kercheval's kicking and the speed of Back, Kreuter and Kercheval. Hence the defense was stressed all week prior to the trip to the Blue Grass.

Hence it may be said that Tech's first real gesture at the gentle art of advancing the football will be made Saturday.

Auburn, co-champions of 1932, took last week off rather than risk chances of injury before the Tech game. It was a bit unusual, this blank date on the schedule, but the Tiger wishes to win on Saturday.

The battle at the Flats sizes up as one of the best of the year. Auburn has won from Tech in the past two seasons. And Auburn will rule a decided favorite to beat Tech. Auburn should win. But passing the Tech defense is something else.

FOLLOW THE BALL.

Georgia's victory over Tulane was won, so I have read, by kicking.

But it remains that a game is won by lugging the football across the goal line. And to lug it there one must have possession of it.

It seems that too little attention has been given the recovery of fumbles by the Georgia team in the Tulane game. Tulane fumbled six times and Georgia recovered five times.

The recovery of a fumble is not always a matter of luck. Rather it is a reward of alertness and adherence to the old, old adage about following the ball.

In any game played with a ball the important thing is to be where the ball is. Georgia gave a great exhibition of hawking the football. Any time a team recovers five of six fumbles by opponents it is not luck, but good football. The Georgians, I judge, were always loitering around where the football was. Which is most important.

A fumble is a disaster. It gives one's opponents the football. And when they have it they may score. Without it they cannot. Kicking often aids most materially in winning games. But they are won by touchdowns. And to make them, one must have the football.

THE VALUE OF A STAR.

Alabama and Auburn offer valuable lessons in the football research laboratory.

In 1932 each team found the going difficult without the presence of a star player. Alabama leaned heavily on Johnny Cain. Auburn was without a leader when Jimmy Hitchcock was on the bench.

Both players are gone this year, each being assigned to a coaching job with their respective alma maters. And to date neither team has functioned as expected.

Auburn will go into the test tube Saturday. Alabama will have another on Saturday week when the Tennessee game comes around.

The trouble about hitching one's football wagon to a star is that the star eventually graduates from school. And then what about the wagon?

SHOULDER HURT LOSES EUBANKS TO TECH TEAM

Sophomore Tackle May Miss Auburn Game Here Saturday.

By Jimmy Jones.

While Tech coaches worked diligently on blocking assignments in a long practice session that lasted until dusk settled over Grant field, Trainer Mike Chambers received a visitor in his training room.

The visitor was "Lefty" Eubanks, stalwart 200-pound sophomore tackle from Macon, and he brought with him a dislocated right shoulder that will keep him out of the heavy work for several days and possibly out of the game with Auburn Saturday. Eubanks' shoulder hurt is an old one, however, with the application of some of Dr. Chambers' noted treatment, may respond more rapidly than anticipated.

At any rate, he will be forced to wear it in a brace for the remainder of the week.

Eubanks was the only player draped on the training table, however, and the rest of the Jacket hurt-amount only to a few bumps and bruises that will be laughed off. Shorty Roberts, the bantam-sized quarterback, was banked around rather roughly by the big Kentucky line and Coach Alexander him out of scrimmage yesterday. He will be kept out today and possibly tomorrow to allow him full chance to get his stamina back.

"Shorty" who weighs only 135, soaking wet, has dropped down to 124 pounds and will need the rest to regain his avoirdupois. Meanwhile Tech coaches had Wilbur (Blondy) Peterson running the team at quarterback. Chances announced in yesterday morning's paper were in effect yesterday with Bill Street running at full. Phil Chance, sophomore, was snapping the ball for the third team.

"Mutt" Morris, the recently promoted Grey Devil, has done some pleasing work defensively and may help the Tech line with his presence in a tight spot. Mutt, formerly a Tech High player, has always been a rugged performer on defense.

Tech coaches are trying to get some more speed and charge into the line and Line Coach Jack Cannon is working hard on his men, both offensively and defensively. The guards and ends particularly are getting a lot of work. Clyde Williams and Bob Tharpe played the entire 60 minutes at tackles against Kentucky Saturday and their endurance may be needed Saturday if Eubanks fails to mend.

As is typical of teams in September and October, Tech missed numerous blocking assignments in the Kentucky game and this seriously retarded the offense. This also explains why Coach Alexander and his aides have been burning the lights this week at Grant field. By Saturday, they hope the boys will be well grounded in these important essentials.

It wasn't that Kentucky was so strong defensively, but rather that the Jackets' clicking, heeling, and behind the ragged blocking it received. That is the story.

CRONIN SIGNS 3-YEAR PACT

By John F. Chester.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The youngest pennant-winning manager ever to appear in the major league, Joseph Edward Cronin, today scribbled his name across a contract to pilot the Washington Senators through three more flag-chasing seasons. The annual figure clubhouse wise men guessed was $25,000—or less.

Cronin almost had a race with the hour glass to get his first three-year contract signed before the clock struck his twenty-seventh year. He will have his birthday party Thursday while en route home to San Francisco.

Both "Old Fox" Clark Griffith and his kid who were much in newspapermen's search to get definite salary figures from them. The president of the Washington ball club made no secret of it, however. Cronin's pay envelope will bulge less than that of Manager Bill Terry, of the New York Giants.

In fact, Griffith expressed personal doubts that Terry would receive $40,000 as was hinted upon good authority when he signed yesterday.

SILENT ABOUT SALARY.

"I can't mention any figures," he said when pressed about the matter of managerial contract. "I might as well tell you $100,000 as to say $40,000, as they did in New York."

The best authenticated reports have been that Cronin signed for about $17,500 last October before leading the Senators to their first American league pennant since 1925, only to be turned back decisively by Terry's Giants in the World Series.

On the basis of this, and the smiling words of Cronin that his new contract was "satisfactory," and called for "a considerable increase over my salary for this year," the clubhouse boys figured the new agreement would be for better than $20,000 but not more than $25,000.

There was considerable talk but scant ceremony at the signing. Cronin conferred with Griffith for about two hours in his upstairs office before a voice floated down to the floor below:

"Bring up that contract form, will you, please."

"Thank heavens, that's over," said one of the feminine secretaries, who is also a fan, as she scurried up with it.

Cronin took a chain at Griffith's left as photographers came up to have them re-enact the signing.

"You were on the other side last year, Joe," one of them remarked. "Whoa, hold everything," Cronin called, and hurriedly circled Griffith with his chair.

Griffith gave three-year contracts to his last two managers—Bucky Harris, who as a "boy manager" led the Senators to a world's championship in 1924 and a league pennant the next year, and Walter Johnson, for two decades Washington's "Big Train."

When Griffith was asked today whether he planned any changes in his 1934 lineup he answered with a thumb jerk and an "Ask Joe."

"Of course we are open for anything that would help our ball club," said Cronin. "But I haven't anything in mind right now. We haven't even looked around. After all, we would have to go pretty slow. We have a championship club right now."

Tech End Candidate

Hoot Gibson, former Tech High star, who has been hurt, is showing considerable improvement of late and is certain to see much action with the Georgia Tech team during the remainder of the games. Gibson has been playing second fiddle to the experienced Jacket ends but is a real prospect.

Battle of Backs Looms When Lee Meets Grant

Macon's Largest Football Crowd Expected for Big Game on Friday, October 20.

By Jimmy Jones.

Mr. Charles J. Bloch, Macon attorney and an alumnus of Georgia, calls the writer's attention to a play on names that the gentlemen of the press may apply in covering the Georgia-Mercer game to be played in Macon on Friday, October 20.

"Mercer's most sensational back of the season thus far has been Robert E. Lee Jr., who is said to be a distant relation of the general himself," comments Attorney Bloch. "Georgia's Mr. Cy Grant has been outstanding as a runner, kicker and pass receiver. Now, what could be better than a battle between Lee and Grant at Macon?"

Mr. Bloch also predicts that central Georgia will see its largest football crowd on record at the Centennial stadium on that date and that the advance sale of tickets and advance interest gives every indication of such.

The alumni of Mercer and Georgia, in Macon deserve lots of credit for leading the game there is the prize attraction of Mercer's 100th athletic year. The early games with Army and Navy aroused considerable interest among the Macon fans, but have with Georgia is vastly more important to the city.

"A FULL HOUSE." Macon has improved greatly as a football town since Lake Russell came here to coach and we wouldn't be at all surprised to see the stadium, which seats around 15,000, being filled to capacity," Mr. Bloch added.

The game is the state's biggest Friday attraction of the season and marks Georgia's first visit to Macon since 1925. Only recently has Macon developed sufficient football interest to warrant transfer of the annual game between the Bears and Bulldogs from Athens to Macon.

Playing it on Friday, instead of Saturday, gives the entire state a chance to turn out for it, which is an excellent forethought. Since Georgia follows with the N. Y. U. game in Athens, on October 28, the Georgia alumni in that section will have an opportunity to get a last look at the team before the meeting with the Violets on Georgia soil for the first time.

"Lake Russell is very popular with the Georgia alumni in Macon and except when his team is playing the Bulldogs, they are pulling for his boys to win," Mr. Bloch stated. This is all very true. It was Russell's amicable relationship with the Georgia coaches and alumni that restored the game at Macon between the schools.

And don't forget that there will be other brilliant players on the field that day besides Lee and Grant. Coach Harry Mehre has developed a new crop of stars at Athens this year, headed by "Sixty-Minute" Jack.

Great Crowd Is Seen For LaGrange Game

By Jack Troy.

The LaGrange Lions Club is looking for the biggest crowd ever to attend an athletic event in the history of the city when Bowdon College and Tampa University meet under the stars Thursday night.

It is to be a red-letter day in athletics for the town. Five former LaGrange High school stars will start the game for Bowdon and two others will play. Two other LaGrange boys are student managers of the team.

Coach Bud Harris, who has turned out good teams at Bowdon in the five years he has had charge of football, was in town last night. While he expected formidable opposition from the Tampa team, coached by Nash

HUBBELL WINS HIGHEST HONOR IN HIS LEAGUE

Named "Most Valuable Player" of Season by All Experts.

By Alan Gould.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Carl Owen Hubbell, celebrated southpaw pitcher of the world champion Giants, who never so much as received a single vote before in the contest, emerged today by official ballot of the experts as the National league's "most valuable player" for 1933.

The vote was almost unanimous for the Meeker (Okla.) master of the screwball, who scored 23 victories during the league season, including ten shutouts, and twice pitched the Giants to triumph over the Senators in the World Series without allowing a single earned run in 20 innings.

HUBBELL'S SCORE.

Hubbell scored 77 points out of a maximum possible total of 80 in the contest, decided by ballots of a committee of eight members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America and announced by the chairman, Denman Thompson, of the Washington Star. The pitcher won by a decisive margin over two outfield rivals, Chuck Klein, of the Phillies, and Wally Berger, of the Braves, who finished second and third with 48 and 44 points, respectively.

Six of the eight ballots marked Hubbell's name at the top of the list. The two others rated him second and third. Points were on the basis of 10 for first, nine for second, and so on.

Manager Bill Terry, of the Giants, received the other two first-place designations but wound up fourth in total points with 35, followed by Pepper Martin, third base sensation of the Cardinals, with 31.

Three other stars of the Giants made the top flight, with Gus Mancuso sixth, Blondy Ryan ninth and Hal Schumacher twelfth. Last year Terry and Mel Ott were the only New Yorkers on the list.

The entire National league reflected the writers' belief that there was an unusually big turn-over in star players this year. Of the 27 players receiving actual votes in the contest were not even mentioned on the 1932 list. Lon Warneke, Cubs' young right-hander and runner-up to Klein last year, was named on only one ballot. Hubbell and Klein were the only performers listed by every member of the committee.

FIRST GIANT.

Hubbell is the first member of the Giants to gain the "most valuable player" recognition since Larry Doyle, second baseman, won the old Chalmers award in 1912. He is the first pitcher to be so honored in the National league since Dazzy Vance, of the Pirates, won the official league award in 1924.

The writers' committee making the selections, consisted of Bert Whitman, Boston; William McCullough, Brooklyn; Herbert Simons, Chicago; Jack Ryder, Cincinnati; James Powers, New York; James J. Lohr, Pittsburgh; Harry Robert, Philadelphia, and Ray Gillespie, St. Louis.

The complete results, including points, follow: Carl Hubbell, Giants, 77; Chuck Klein, Phillies, 48; Wally Berger, Braves, 44; Bill Terry, Giants, 35; Pepper Martin, Cardinals, 31; Gus Mancuso, Giants, 24; Dixie Dean, Cardinals, 23; Pie Traynor, Pirates, 20; Blondy Ryan, Giants, 19; Al Lopez, Dodgers, 18; Ben Cantwell, Braves, 18; Hal Schumacher, Giants, 11; Rabbitt Maranville, Braves, 10; Guy Bush, Cubs, 11; Larry French, Pirates, 10; Frank Frisch, Cardinals, 7; Jim Bottomley, Reds, 6; Joe Medwick, Cardinals, 5; Gabby Hartnett, Cubs, 5; Lonnie Chaney, Reds, 4; Red Lucas, Reds, 3; Dick Bartell, Phillies, 3; Floyd Vaughan, Pirates, 2; Randy Moore, Braves, 2; Virgil Davis, Reds, 1; Chick Hefey, Reds, 1; Adolfo Luque, Giants, 1.

Frank Allen Faces Battle Thursday

With Lope Tenorio, the flashy Filipino scrapper, in fine condition, Frankie Allen faces a battle in his bout at the city auditorium in East Point Thursday night. They will top a fight card with a 10-round bout.

Allen, a knockout victim in their last meeting, has been working hard to get himself in top shape for the bout as he is anxious to stop Tenorio. It should be a fine battle.

Another scrap that promises plenty of action is the one between Sailor Born and Battling Maddox. They will meet in a 10-rounder. Each holds a victory over the other and one draw had been fought. They will settle it this time.

The card:

Police to Sponsor Mat and Ring Card

Marvin Thomas and Dudley Etheridge will wrestle for the Atlanta police championship Thursday night at the city auditorium in the feature of a combination wrestling and boxing card. The show is being sponsored by the police, and the proceeds will go into a fund to equip the police gymnasium.

In addition to the Thomas-Etheridge match, George Romanoff will meet Sammy Miller in a two-out-of-three-fights match. A belt won by Romanoff in a recent match at Fort McPherson will go to the winner of the match.

Lee Mahlick will box Battling Raso in the feature of the boxing program.

Morehouse Works For Saturday Game

Coach David Gunn, who invades Atlanta this week-end with his Benedict College football team, will be coming back to his adopted home town, where he spent the early part of his coaching days at Atlanta University as assistant to Coach Chief Aiken.

On this occasion Gunn will be bringing his team here to meet an ancient rival while at Atlanta University, in the Morehouse aggregation, and the athletic relations between the South Carolina institution and Morehouse has developed the same rivalry as existed between the two Atlanta schools while the youthful mentor was coaching here.

GOLF FACTS

Alex Morrison says: There seems to be an epidemic of heavy clubs. Both in irons and woods.

Some of our leading players are setting a new style by using wood clubs that I'm told weigh anywhere from 10 to 20 ounces.

That's more weight in the shape of a golf club than any human can swing accurately and consistently. This is being proven by the performances of these players in the tournaments.

You may have used a heavy club to advantage for a short time. It seems to add something to your swing. It does.

Weight gives a downward impetus to the club which you fail to supply ordinarily. If you'll just emphasize this downward motion with your medium or light-weight clubs you'll enjoy a permanent improvement in your game.

COACHES SEEK SWIFT ATTACK PACKING PUNCH

Carolina Boys in Good Shape for Bulldogs at Chapel Hill.

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Oct. 10.—Making free use of the new stars and the new power revealed in the Vanderbilt game, the Carolina coaches re-tooled the governors and set about today to tune the Carolina grid machine up to full speed for Saturday's big home game with Georgia.

With the Tarheels showing steady improvement, the coaches figure the Georgia game may develop into a nip-and-tuck affair and that the Carolina boys have a fair chance of winning.

The Bulldogs displayed great power in defeating State, 20-10, and Tulane, 20-13. But the Tarheels tied them, 6-6, last year and expect to give them another close battle Saturday. Both outfits have seven men back who started that game last year, and no quarter will be asked or given.

COACH'S PROBLEM.

Coach Collins' big problem is to pick the backfield combinations which will generate the most power against Georgia's veteran line. Captain Bill Croom and Charlie Woolen Jr. are the dependable veterans.

But Don Jackson and George Moore, two juniors, were the big offensive guns in the victory over Davidson.

And Ace McDonald, Mac Bell and Henry Burnett, three more juniors, were responsible for the fireworks in the fine showing in the 20-13 Vanderbilt game, which Carolina might have

Latin-Americans Sign Anti-War Agreement

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Oct. 10.—(P)—An anti-war treaty designed eventually for adoption of all the Pan-American countries was signed here today by representatives of Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Mexico, Uruguay and Paraguay.

The pact sets up South American conciliation machinery complementing the Kellogg-Briand pact, outlaws aggressive wars and forbids the forcible acquisition of territory. Argentina and Brazil, climaxing in the visit of President Augustin P. Justo, of the former country, here, signed 10 other commercial, cultural and miscellaneous pacts.

HUTTIG, Ark., Oct. 10.—(P)—Two hundred men were out of work temporarily today as the result of a fire which destroyed a part of the Huttig sawmill plant last night with loss officially given as $175,000.

RUSSO-JAP CONFLICT REPORTED IN OFFING

Tokyo Threatens Reprisals After Reported Moscow Charge.

By GLENN BABB.

TOKYO, Oct. 10.—(P)—New differences between Russia and Japan arose today to clutter the path to continued peace in the far east. Tentatively, said a Japanese foreign office spokesman, Japan will content herself with an investigation of the circulation at Moscow of documents which allegedly described a Japanese plot to seize the Chinese Eastern railway.

The new threat to peace, like others before it, was born of the protracted wrangling over negotiations for the sale of the road. Japan entered the conversations officially as a mediator.

But charges have flared frequently the soviet capital that Tokyo was going further—was, in fact, as most lately asserted, joining in a plot to seize the road.

Two possibilities were seen by the spokesman should Russia fail to make amends for the "unfriendly act" of permitting circulation of the "documents."

Either, he said frankly, negotiations on the C. E. R. sale might be dropped completely, or diplomatic relations with Russia broken off.

RUMANIAN DISCLOSES EIGHT-POWER TREATY

WARSAW, Oct. 10.—(P)—Foreign Minister Nicholas Titulescu, of Rumania, said today his country, soviet Russia, and Poland were signatories of an eight-power treaty.

He revealed that the ratification of the treaty between the soviet and Rumania was exchanged at the soviet legation here during his present visit to the Polish capital.

"I expressed the desire of the Rumanian nation," declared Titulescu, "for cordial relations with the soviet, and I was glad to find this feeling was reciprocated by Russia."

Other signatories to the pact which Rumania, Poland and Russia ratified today were Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Turkey and Finland. Russia and Poland were the first nations to ratify; Rumania, through Titulescu, was third.

The pact was signed in London, September 3. It defines the aggressor nation in case of war.

CODE AUTHORITY SETS MINIMUM COAL PRICE

CINCINNATI, Oct. 10.—(P)—The Appalachian district coal code authority and Appalachian Coals, Inc., announced today that coal prices representing an increase of approximately 30 cents a ton as the minimum level have been posted.

Issuing of the minimum price list, below which producers will not be permitted to sell, followed approval by the administration of the coal code authority personnel of 16 members; chosen by the coal operators to administer the coal code. The authority will have headquarters here.

The new prices, retroactive to September 29, are effective in the Appalachian region of West Virginia, exclusive of northern West Virginia, eastern Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee.

Negro Mangles Foot To Avoid 'Gang Job'

AIKEN, S. C., Oct. 10.—(P)—Pinckney Washington, a negro, was in a local hospital today but he had made good his boast that he would not work on a chain gang.

Convicted on a charge of assault and battery and sentenced to 18 months, the negro made his boast. He was sent to the gang and assigned to work. At first opportunity he took a brush ax and mangled his hands and cut his foot so badly that it may have to be amputated. Surgeons said he probably would not work again.

KINTZ IS STAR

The spear head of the Bowdon offensive is Gene Kintz, an all-state player from South Bend, Ind. Kintz is a quarterback.

The Bowdon lineup will include Perry and George, ends; Turner and Wagner, tackles; Barker and Spence, guards; Massey, center; Kintz, quarterback; Dickerson and Smith, halfbacks; Prescott, fullback.

The quiet and picturesque little town of Bowdon, which is highly interested in its football team, plans to run special cars to the game. LaGrange will turn out in representative numbers.

Coch Kintz Johnson, former University of Georgia player and coach of LaGrange High school, is a member of the Lions Club and is having a big hand in preparations for the game.

LEE VERSUS GRANT IN MACON GAME

Griffith, the quarterback, and including Henry Wagner, the sophomore end; John McKnight, the center; Jess Morgan, the 200-pound tackle, and John Boyd, a sophomore back. Allan Shi, another sophomore tackle, is a Macon boy. The names of Grant, Chapman, Keel, Batchelor, Moorehead, McCullough and others were more or less established last season.

Mercer, besides the intrepid Lee, has Jake Trommerhauser, of Augusta, a crack passer; Gerald McQuig, of Fitzgerald, Ga., a newcomer and a number of outstanding linemen.

Lee, a tough, wiry, 147-pound south Georgian, also from Fitzgerald, is-tounded the effete galleries at West Point and Annapolis with his daring disregard of the Army and Navy traditions with the ball as nonchalantly as if he were playing against Spring Hill. This youngster, who is only 19 years old, caught a pass and scampered 58 yards against Army and against Navy drove from the 14-yard line to the one-foot line in two plays to pave the way for both of Mercer's touchdowns against the service teams.

He is as cool under fire as Jack Griffith and can direct the team almost as well when Russell moves him to quarter. He scored twice on long runs against Spring Hill to help riot that team. Lee was coached in high school by Bill Alderman, a former Mercer back, who has developed winning teams at Fitzgerald High for several years.

PREP COACHES JUGGLE TEAMS SEEKING POWER

Smithies and Decatur Work Hard for Battle Friday Night.

Failing to score when twice within the 5-yard line against G. M. A. and lacking scoring punches in other games, Tech High coaches are seeking a suitable combination to start against Decatur High Thursday night at Ponce de Leon park. It will be the first meeting between the teams and the Smithies are out to break Decatur's record of 30 wins, two ties and no defeats.

Boys' High coaches also are experimenting with various backfield candidates to find a scoring punch, which was decidedly lacking last week against Gordon Institute. Boys' High meets Central High of Chattahoochee, Friday night at Ponce de Leon park.

Tech High, Boys' High and Decatur held long scrimmages Tuesday afternoon in the only real rough work of the week. The Smithies and Decatur will taper off with light drills today, while Boys' High will hold another scrimmage, though not as rough as Tuesday, in preparation for Friday night's game.

Both Tech High and Decatur coaches have scouted each other in every game this season. They are taking no chances and it will be a game chuck full of action.

Tickets for the Tech High-Decatur game are going fast and due to many requests being made, officials at Tech High Tuesday stated that a section named "the justice and tolerance" of the goal will be reserved for colored. A complete sell-out at the two schools already has been reported, insuring one of the largest prep crowds of the season.

Other games for the week include G. M. A. and Monroe Friday afternoon in Monroe, and Griffin and Russell High Friday afternoon, at East Point.

Vol Fullbacks On Injured List

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 10.—(P) At the start of the season Tennessee had the best fullback talent in history. Now the Vols have only two fullbacks in condition for the Duke game, which was decided last year by Fullback Bremer Wynne's place kick, 16-13.

Wynne is lost indefinitely, having received a broken ankle in the V. P. I. opening game. Malcolm Anderson and Bill Lippe are nursing injuries. Anderson bruised his shoulder last Saturday and Lippe suffered a knee injury today.

Milton Frank, tackle, rejoined the squad today. His injured knee was sufficiently healed to permit him to take part in the practice session.

Babe Ruth Off For Honolulu

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—(P)—Babe Ruth, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth and their daughter, Julia, left New York today for Los Angeles en route to Honolulu.

The Lions Club of LaGrange, which is sponsoring the game, has installed a new lighting system on the high school field especially for this game. It will be the only college game played there this season.

COMING SCHOOL

Tampa University is considered one of the coming schools in Florida. High school stars of the state have followed Higgins there. He is a great coach.

Chances are Bowdon will be outweighed about 10 pounds to the man. But this will make no difference to the Bulldogs. Coach Harris has one of the hardest-fighting teams since he has been at Bowdon.

The two reserves from LaGrange are Durham, a guard, and Mann, second-string quarterback.

The spear head of the Bowdon offensive is Gene Kintz, an all-state player from South Bend, Ind. Kintz is a quarterback.

The Bowdon lineup will include Perry and George, ends; Turner and Wagner, tackles; Barker and Spence, guards; Massey, center; Kintz, quarterback; Dickerson and Smith, halfbacks; Prescott, fullback.

Griffith, the quarterback, and including Henry Wagner, the sophomore end; John McKnight, the center; Jess Morgan, the 200-pound tackle, and John Boyd, a sophomore back. Allan Shi, another sophomore tackle, is a Macon boy. The names of Grant, Chapman, Keel, Batchelor, Moorehead, McCullough and others were more or less established last season.

Mercer, besides the intrepid Lee, has Jake Trommerhauser, of Augusta, a crack passer; Gerald McQuig, of Fitzgerald, Ga., a newcomer and a number of outstanding linemen.

Lee, a tough, wiry, 147-pound south Georgian, also from Fitzgerald, is-tounded the effete galleries at West Point and Annapolis with his daring disregard of the Army and Navy traditions with the ball as nonchalantly as if he were playing against Spring Hill. This youngster, who is only 19 years old, caught a pass and scampered 58 yards against Army and against Navy drove from the 14-yard line to the one-foot line in two plays to pave the way for both of Mercer's touchdowns against the service teams.

He is as cool under fire as Jack Griffith and can direct the team almost as well when Russell moves him to quarter. He scored twice on long runs against Spring Hill to help riot that team. Lee was coached in high school by Bill Alderman, a former Mercer back, who has developed winning teams at Fitzgerald High for several years.

LEAGUE GROUP ASKS PROTECTIVE MOVE FOR MINORITIES

GENEVA, Oct. 10.—(P)—With only Germany dissenting, the political commission of the League of Nations assembly today recommended that the League publicly classify all numerically inferior racial groups as minorities entitled to "the justice and tolerance" guaranteed in minority treaties.

Previously the economic commission of the assembly adopted a resolution providing for the creation of a high commission and governing body outside the machinery of the League to concern itself with organized relief for Jewish refugees from Germany.

The recommendation of the political commission will come before the assembly tomorrow in the form of a resolution generally regarded as putting the League tacitly on record as suggesting an amelioration of the German policy toward the Jews.

Boy, Losing Eyesight, Wishes To See Father

MEMPHIS, Oct. 10.—(P)—A 12-year-old boy who is losing his sight appealed to newspapers today to help find his father so he can see him once more.

The child is Martin Beard. He is losing his sight as a result of a kick on the head by a mule.

The father is C. R. Beard, and the boy's mother, Mrs. J. L. Harmon, said she thought he was "somewhere in St. Francis county, Arkansas."

SUPREME COURT SETS SPEED MARK IN HANDLING CASE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(P)—A new high record for action on cases was established by the supreme court yesterday at its first sitting following the summer recess.

Orders were issued in 307 of the 530 cases on the docket. Heretofore, the record number of cases was 125, established two years ago. In addition, 20 other orders not affecting cases, were issued.

The justices worked on the appeals during the summer recess. As a result of the orders issued yesterday, 222 cases finally were disposed of, while the tribunal agreed to consider 85 on their merits.

The net result was to reduce the docket to 308. Sixty of the remaining cases are to be acted on next Monday and then the court is to recess for two weeks.

Attaches said that if the justices continue this pace the court would run out of work by Christmas.

Social News of Varied Interest

Alpha Gamma Delta Alumnae Club met at the home of Mrs. Ralph Hill, the president, on Saturday, and it was decided to continue active membership in the City Federation of Women's Clubs, and to send Mrs. Lewis Howie, University of Oklahoma, and Mrs. Ralph Hill, Florida State College for Women, as delegates to the coming meeting of the federation. The usual charitable work will be continued, and additional ones undertaken as finances will permit.

As one of a series of talks on parliamentary law, Mrs. Ronald Pentecost, of Brenau, explained some fundamental practices and she will make talks on this subject at each meeting. It was decided to entertain the club and a few friends in November at a steak fry, and the month following at a card party. The steak supper will be held on Saturday evening, November 4, members and guests to assemble at the home of Mrs. Ralph Hill on Lindbergh drive, at about 5 o'clock, and drive to the spot chosen for the entertainment. Alpha Gamma Deltas are invited, and are requested to call Mrs. Ralph Hill, Cherokee 2555; Mrs. Ronald Pentecost, Hemlock 6145-J, or any member of the alumnae club, for particulars. Members present were Misses Clara Bright, Lewis Ray, Sophia Horne, Bess Matthews, Dorothy Moran, Margaret Blanchard and Mesdames Ralph Hill, Lewis Ray, Ronald Pentecost and Austin V. Deibert.

Among the interesting programs given at Hospital 48 was sponsored by the Atlanta Chapter, U. D. C., under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. B. Phillips on Friday evening. Talented young actors and actresses from Jackson Hill Baptist church, under the leadership of Mrs. G. H. Faust, presented an amusing comedy, entitled, "Thanks Awfully," which won applause from the audience. The cast included Raymond Perry, Ella Carter, Elizabeth Wright, Helen Jenkins, Margaret Wright, Lucile Jenkins, Edith Self, Thelma Gray, Celia Reynolds, Eulalia Reynolds, Helen Smully, Fannie Lee Miller, Lydia Watkins, Kip Myrick, Mary Tucker, Louis Henderson and Gus Henderson. The senior league of Epworth Methodist church presented a minstrel show which kept the audience entertained with jokes, dances and musical numbers. The cast included W. T. Morris Jr., Ed Joiner, Arthur Mobs, James Ball, Frankie Mae Davis, Grace Brimley, Ed Davidson, Ola Binder, Ray Bowles, Leslie Sibley, Homer Kennerly, Ray Morris, Bob Graydon, Charles Port and Carol Barfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex B. Brown were at home to their friends last Saturday afternoon at their country place, Haclands on Shallowford road. Mr. Brown is a native of Aberdeen, Scotland, and the summer home has been furnished in the Scotch plaid motif in a rural setting. Large jars of golden red and autumn berries were used throughout the house. The guests registered in the guest book, tied with plaid ribbon, kept by M. T. Moncrief. The punch bowl was placed on a d surrounded with a mound of natural foliage and fruits gathered at Haclands, including dogwood and hickory nuts, chinquapins in their burs, stalks of cotton bolls, ripe crabapples and chinaberries. Baskets of peanuts, embedded in autumn foliage, were placed at either end of the table. Punch and cakes were served to the guests by Misses Sarah and Helen Snow. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were assisted by their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Snow, Miss Dorothy Snow, Joe Schilling Jr., Miss Erva Blackstock, Mr. H. F. Mewborn and Mr. M. T. Moncrief; 250 guests called.

Members of Camp Tige Anderson No. 1455, United Confederate Veterans, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Baker on Saturday at an old-fashioned spend-the-day party at their country home, near Mount Gilead camp ground, at Ben Hill, Ga. Veterans were transported to the home in the school bus, the trip being made enjoyable by singing the songs of their school days and reminiscent of their boyhood. A welcoming committee, composed of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Baker, Mesdames E. P. Moody, J. M. Wallace, D. L. Baker, Roy Baker, W. O. Settles Sr. and W. O. Settles Jr., met the guests at the home. Luncheon tables were decorated with garden flowers and ferns. After luncheon games were played, and a contest of the ages and an old-time "songfest" was featured, and W. Bedford Strickland, 94 years old, won the "age" prize, being trailed by G. W. Chaffin, 92, and R. B. Davis, 91 years of age, the combined ages of the veterans present being 1,055 years. Present were W. B. Strickland, G. W. Chaffin, R. B. Davis, John M. Baker, J. O. Mullinix, W. H. Culpepper, Dr. C. L. Moore, Colonel J. H. Nash, W. T. Lumpkin, Judge E. R. Hamilton, L. J. Snelgrove, William B. Hite, members of the U. C. V. camp; E. P. Moody, D. L. Baker, Roy Baker and W. W. Moss. Members of the auxiliary assisting in entertaining were Mesdames Emily Jarvis, Nannie

Miss Catron Weds Mr. O'Brien At Grace Methodist Church

Grace Methodist church was the scene of the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Catron and Harry LeRoy O'Brien, which was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the presence of an assemblage of relatives and friends. Rev. W. A. Shelton, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony. Baskets holding white dahlias featured the church decorations and palms and ferns were effectively banded on the altar forming a background of greenery. Cathedral candelabra holding burning tapers were interspersed with the baskets of flowers.

Mrs. Charles E. Bowman rendered a program of organ music, using Mendelssohn's "Wedding March," and the march from the opera, "Lohengrin." During the ceremony Mrs. Bowman played softly appropriate selections.

Mrs. W. F. Catron, mother of the bride, was given in marriage by her father, Dr. L. T. Catron, who was particularly beautiful in her gown of powder blue satin, made on fitted lines with elbow-length sleeves and fastened with rhinestone clasps. The high cowl neckline and low-cut V-shape back were becoming and the belt was trimmed with a rhinestone buckle. The skirt was shirred in the back, giving a graceful effect and having a short train. A close-fitting hat of powder blue velvet trimmed with a single rhinestone ornament, powder blue satin slippers, long white kid gloves, and a bouquet of roses and valley lilies tied with satin ribbon completed the bride's costume.

One of the attractive parties given Miss Lucy Heard, bride-elect, was the linen shower given by Miss Evelyn Duncan on Saturday. The living room was decorated with dahlias, crocheted and purple salsia and white roses, while on the dining room table, covered with an Irish lace cloth, was a bowl of pink rose buds. Miss Margaret Lindley assisted in serving punch. Gifts were presented to Miss Heard in a yellow and white covered umbrella, after enjoying contests. Refreshments were carried out in yellow and white, with small umbrellas as favors for each guest. Invited were Misses Lucy Heard, Lucy Woolf, Zula Stewart, Mildred Jackson, Myrtle Jackson, Ethel Miller, Martha Reese Sanders, Mildred Bartlett, Julia Mobley, Mary Schane, Louise Jordan, Margaret Lindley, Mary Frances Freeman, Muriel Adams and Mesdames Rachel Moore, Corley Wallace, Wallace Moore, J. H. Lexien, Clifford Haynes, D. K. Johnston, Hammond Nowell, Fred Schanck and Mrs. Heard.

Thirty members of the Viking Club surprised Heber Kjaglien on his birthday at his home at 3005 Lookout place, N. E., Thursday evening. Rev. and Mrs. J. L. Yost, John Yost and Miss Elizabeth Yost were also present. Mr. Kjaglien was presented with a basket of roses.

Supper was served at stone tables placed under the arbor near the fish pool in the beautiful gardens of the hosts. Judge Shepard Bryan and Mrs. Bryan and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Crumley, parents of the honor guests, assisted Mr. and Mrs. West in entertaining.

Invited to meet the debutantes were Misses Harriett Grant, Suzanne Memminger, Mathelle Dickey, Barbara Ransom, Judy King, Frances Morton, Betty Gage, Lundy Sharpe, and John Owens, Josiah Sibley, Plessa Purnell, George Farrester, Dr. Douglas Kendrick, Edwin Sterne, Addison Smith, Jack Glenn, Rowland Murray, Tom Harless, John Matthews, Frank Maier, Charles E. DAVISON'S Uncovers FIRST

The forehead-expose started in Paris at Maria Guy's recent opening, was speedily snapped up by Agnes and Descat, was passed on to us by Davison's fashion-sleuth and is presented to you while it's still news in Paris! That's how fast we bring fashion scoops home to you. Be the first to wear the bare-brow hat; it will give you the guileless youthfulness and frivolous freshness you've been missing during the under-cover days.

It isn't what Augustabernard put on this coat that made it the breathless big moment of her recent Paris Opening; it's what she left off of it! No mountains of fur hide its pure Greek simplicity; no excrescences fuzz up the sharply chiseled lines that fit your body like a dagger fits a sheath. From the suavity of its black broadcloth fabric to the dramatic back-flung motion of its rounded-off shoulders it is beauty—simple and unadorned! Other Unfurled Coats...

Woman's Club Garden Division Plans Benefit Luncheon Oct. 12

Mrs. Willard R. Leach, chairman of the garden division of the Atlanta Women's Club, announces that a benefit luncheon will be held at the Sears-Roebuck tea room Thursday, October 12, at 1 o'clock. Twenty-five members of the division have made reservations for this luncheon, which is given for the benefit of the garden division. Reservations at 35 cents each may be made by telephoning Mrs. Leach at Decatur 3764, and the public is invited. Garden division meets at the club Tuesday, October 17, at 10:30 o'clock. A board meeting will precede the regular meeting, and all officers are requested to be present at 9:30 o'clock. Mrs. Leach, chairman, will preside, assisted by Mrs. Thomas C. Harris, co-chairman.

Mrs. Willis F. Westmoreland, chairman of the club annual bazaar, which will be held October 24, 25 and 26, announces a meeting of the members for Friday morning, October 13, at 10 o'clock. Every member of the executive board has been named as a committee worker for the bazaar. October business meeting of the club was held on Monday afternoon.

Mrs. Max E. Land, president, announced the appointment of Mrs. J. O. Sanders as chairman of the drama department, and of Mrs. Clifford Collins, chairman, of drives. Mrs. Guy Mankin, parliamentarian, gave an interesting drill of parliamentary law.

At the recent meeting of the literature division of the club it was announced by the chairman, Mrs. W. F. Melton, that Miss Laurette Fancher, a noted writer and past associate editor of McClure's magazine and Plain Talk, will commence classes in short-story writing at the club Wednesday, October 18, at 10:30 o'clock, under auspices of the literature department, which is a division of the fine arts department.

Miss Fancher will give instruction in the art of short-story writing and will endeavor to find a market for the stories of her pupils. The classes are open to anyone interested in writing, and the fee will be $10 for the course of 10 lessons. At Thursday's meeting a program was presented in which Mrs. Melton, Miss Clara Martin and Mrs. E. S. Harwood participated, and plans for the season's work were received by members of the department.

Miss Nelson Feted At Party Series.

Mrs. Humphrey Wagar has planned a luncheon to be given Tuesday, October 24, as a complimentary gesture to Miss Margaret Nelson, one of the most attractive of the season's brides-elect. Miss Nelson's marriage to William Frederick Williams, of Bristol, R. I., will be an event of social importance taking place October 28.

Outdoor Civic League Hears Mrs. Cooney

Outdoor Civic League met recently at the home of the chairman, Mrs. L. Cooney, who presided and spoke of the importance of co-operation between men and women's organizations for civic improvement. Mrs. Cooney urged that everyone plant grass this year, as nothing adds so much to the attractiveness of a city as well-kept lawns.

Mrs. William Akers was elected chairman for the forthcoming year. Mrs. Akers is also general chairman for the convention of Garden Clubs of Georgia, which meets in Atlanta in the spring as guests of the Iris Garden Club. Mrs. Akers gave a general address to the Garden Clubs convention and reported excellent progress of help from all garden clubs. She reported the following committee chairmen for the convention: Mrs. Kirk Hancock, transportation; Mrs. Eugene Harrington, decorations; Mrs. Earl Cone, registration; Mrs. Alfredo Barill Jr., programs; Mrs. Lawrence Willet, publicity.

Mrs. Arthur Tufts spoke of the necessity of having roads leading into Atlanta cleaned and beautified, and also urged securing immediately its cleaned. Mrs. Lamb presented the iris garden with a new variety of spring and fall blooming iris, named for her.

North Fulton Circle Meets for Conference.

The North Fulton Circle of the Tallulah Falls school met for a conference, followed by a tea, yesterday at the home of Mrs. John K. Outley, chairman of the board of trustees of the Tallulah Falls school. Plans were made to raise money for the school. A group of nine members was welcomed. This circle was organized in February of this year and has already sponsored one successful venture for the school. Miss Edith Shepherd is president and the other officers include Miss Virginia Hurt and Miss May Gray, vice presidents; Miss Mary King, recording secretary; Miss Amelia Hewlett, corresponding secretary; Miss Lydia Whitner, treasurer, and Miss Nell Winslip, historian.

Culbertson on Contract

The Right Road to Slams.

BY ELY CULBERTSON
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

The Million Dollar Bid, as the 45 No-trump Convention has often been called, paid dividends recently to the only team in duplicate games playing the Approach-Forcing system. The deal was played by eight teams, of which seven, blinded by 100 honors, persisted in playing a club contract, unable to establish a definite location of the four Aces and the important Kings, could not safely bid a Grand Slam.

The eighth team, who were wise enough to use this most valuable feature of the Approach-Forcing system, guided their bidding smoothly to a Grand Slam contract in the proper suit, and were richly rewarded by high score for that deal.

South, Dealer.

The bidding: (Figures after bids refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South West North East
1♠ Pass 3♠ Pass
3NT Pass 4NT(1) Pass
5NT(2) Pass 7♠(3) Pass
Pass Pass

1—A Slam try, showing two Aces and the King of a suit previously bid by the 3-NT partnership.

2—The conventional response, showing the other two Aces.

3—This bid is safe when the location of the Aces of hearts and diamonds has been established. It is practically inconceivable that South will be unable to get enough discards from the set-up clubs to rid himself of the losing hearts he may have. This is particularly obvious since South, having the heart Ace, has refused to bid hearts.

South was able to claim all 13 tricks without play. Not even the club discards were necessary.

It is important to note that South could have held the K-Q of either hearts or diamonds and have had the same honor-trick values. Only teams employing the 4-5 No-trump Convention could safely bid the Grand Slam.

TOMORROW'S HAND.

If you have as partner a master player who has mastered the bidding against vulnerable opponents with one no-trump, your side having a part-score of 60, what response should you make to that bid, holding:

♠ A 3 4
♦ Q J 9 8
♣ J 8 2

The hand will be discussed in tomorrow's article.

FUNDS SOUGHT TO AID TENNESSEE SCHOOLS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(AP)—Roane Waring, chairman of the Tennessee state public works board, conferred today with H. M. Dear Miss Chatfield: I am a man 40, married to a woman 10 years younger than I. There is a small son of 4 by a previous marriage, who has lived with us since he was 2. I am seriously considering sending him to my mother as I do not think he has the right influences and training at home. My wife is disorderly, for one thing. Instead of a neat house she has been playing circus, making a mess of the place. She is usually come home to me cluttered with stale to eat, where she and Junior have been playing circus, making a mess of the place. Needlework Guild Meets on Friday

Atlanta branch, Needlework Guild of America, will hold its fall meeting Friday morning, October 13, at 10:30 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Arnold Broyles, at 2049 Peachtree road. Mrs. Edwin H. Helbig, president, requests that all officers, section presidents, directors, chairmen and other members attend this meeting. At this time plans will be discussed for carrying forward the annual collection and distribution of new, useful garments for the social agencies of the city.

A letter to Mrs. Helbig from the national president, Mrs. Thomas J. Preston Jr., the former Mrs. Grover Cleveland, asks that each member of the guild bring a new member into the ranks.

A contribution of two new useful garments constitutes membership in the Needlework Guild, and with its motto, "The Charity that Helps All Charities," does not conflict with other welfare agencies, but supplements whatever is being done. It is the only organization in the world the specific duty of which is to collect annually a stock of new garments and household linen for distribution to social agencies. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Helbig, 2049 Peachtree road, or Mrs. Samuel R. Mitchell, the secretary, Dearborn 3069.

Miss Wert Weds Charles P. Gray

Miss Isabel Couper Will Be Complimented At Social Affairs

Miss Isabel Couper, attractive debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Maxwell Couper, will be presented to society at a tea given by her mother, Mrs. Couper, and her aunt, Mrs. Frank M. Farley Jr., on Tuesday, November 28, at their home on Westminster drive, in Ansley Park. Invited to meet Miss Couper will be the season's debutantes, a number of Atlanta's young social contingent and young matrons.

On Saturday, December 2, Miss Couper will be complimented at the Piedmont Driving Club dinner-dance by her sister, Mrs. Samuel E. Guidice, of Forest Hills, N. Y., who is spending the autumn in Atlanta.

Mrs. Jack Thiesen, cousin of Miss Couper, and her daughter, Miss Mary Thiesen, will entertain at a tea at a date to be announced later, in compliment to Miss Couper and Misses Harriett Lee, Betty Schroeder, Caroline Crumley and Mimi Fleming.

Miss Couper is a member of one of the most aristocratic families of the south. Her grandfather is the late Major J. M. Couper and her aunt is the late Mrs. George M. Traylor.

Miss Couper attended Washington Seminary and is a namesake of her grandmother, the late Mrs. J. M. Couper.

Miss Riordan Weds Henry Cullen Allen

PONTIAC, Mich., Oct. 10.—Centering the interest of a host of friends is the announcement of the marriage of Miss Agnes Elise Riordan to Henry Cullen Allen by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Riordan, of Atlanta, Ga. The ceremony took place during a nuptial mass at St. Vincent De Paul church Monday morning, October 9, with Rev. Father Francis Van Antwerp officiating. Crystal vases holding huge white chrysanthemums, interspersed with palms, adorned the altar.

Mrs. Joseph C. Hanley, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the only attendant, Joseph C. Hanley gave the bride in marriage and acted as best man. Mrs. Hanley wore a costume of beige satin with a close-fitting hat of brown crepe and brown accessories. Her flowers were tall-man roses.

The bride, who is of the brunet type of beauty, wore a gown of ecru-grey crepe featuring a softly-draped, high-neckline, with epaulets of mink adding a modish touch. Her hat was a voluminous gray crepe with accessories in matching shades. A cluster of lilies of the valley completed her costume.

The couple was honored at a wedding breakfast by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hanley at her home on South Park street, after which they left by motor for a brief wedding journey to points of interest in Canada. Upon their return they will be at home at 188 South Park street.

Mrs. Allen is a graduate of the Immaculate Conception convent and Sacred Heart High school of the class of 1932. Mr. Allen is the son of Mrs. Margaret Allen, of Atlanta, and brother of John, Mr. Allen, and Edgar Allen. He received his education at Covington High school, Covington, Ky., and is a graduate of the University of Cincinnati.

Mr. Allen, until recently a resident of Atlanta, is engaged in business in Pontiac, where he and his bride will reside.

Waldman Pianists Club Meets Today

The Waldman Pianist Club meets this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the studio of Miss Dorothy J. Waldman, 730 Park drive, N. E., with Miss Mary Louise Bailey as pianist.

The precise, classic form of piano composition as done in Handel's day, will be explained by Miss Mary Welner, pianist, and Mrs. Philip Welner, the latter being chancellor of the university system of Georgia. She will illustrate Handel's style with the "Triumphal March" from Scipio.

The development leading up to Beethoven's style will be explained by Miss Mary Louise Bailey.

Taking part in the complete outline of the life of Beethoven will be Misses Mary Anne Atkins, Dagmar Peterson, June Moore and Mildred Rand and Helen Klugh. The periods of poverty and affliction, with the attendant influence on his style, will be discussed and the inspiration received after his reading of Schiller's "Ode to Joy," to be recited by Miss Marie Y. Candler.

Culminating in his stupendous "Ninth Symphony," will be reviewed by Miss Mildred Rand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Rand. The famous "Variations, Nel Corpi Mi Non Sento," the "Minuet in G," the "Sonatina and F." will be played by other talented pupils of Miss Waldman. The encore from the "Moonlight Sonata," will be played by Miss Helen Klugh, gifted daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George F. Klugh. Plans for the Halloween party to be given by the Waldman Pianists Club will be in charge of officers of the club.

Tablets Unveiled Near Clinton, Ga.

CLINTON, Ga., Oct. 10.—The graveyard near Clinton, Ga., in Jones county, was the scene of an impressive ceremony held last Sunday, when the Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., and the John Floyd chapter, Daughters of 1812, sponsored the unveiling and dedication of three tablets, erected side by side, to the memory of John Hanna Brooks and William Stubble Shirley, Revolutionary soldiers, and to Richard Charles Shirley, soldier of the War of 1812.

The following exercises were rendered, with Mrs. R. K. Rambo, regent of Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R., and Mrs. Lucius McConnell, president of John Floyd chapter, Daughters of 1812, presiding: Bearers of United States flag and Daughters of 1812 flag, George Copeland Jr. and Irvin Massey, Boy Scouts, Troop 65; song, "My Country 'Tis of Thee"; invocation, Mrs. C. D. Tebo; address on behalf of Revolutionary soldiers, Mrs. R. K. Rambo; address on behalf of soldier of War of 1812, Mrs. Lucius McConnell; address of welcome, Miss Mary Lowe, representing the regent of the Oliver Morton chapter, D. A. R., Gray, Ga., which chapter was invited to be present; Tolamont Cuyler, giving a resume of conditions existing in Georgia in 1812. Unveiling of the markers by the great-great-grandchildren, Vance and Sue's May Rankin, Atlanta; Mary Willard and William F. Teat, Montgomery, Ala. Placing of wreaths by the great-great-granddaughter of John Hanna Brooks, little Brookshire Mercer, Clinton, with a short appropriate speech. Presentation of markers by Mrs. V. O. Rankin, chairman of marking, Revolutionary and historical spots, Joseph Habersham chapter, D. A. R. Mrs. Rankin is also the great-great-granddaughter of the Revolutionary soldier, John Hanna Brooks and William Stubble Shirley, and the great-granddaughter of Richard Charles Shirley, 1812. Acceptance of markers by Mrs. C. P. Mercer, great-great-granddaughter of John Hanna Brooks' rituals of D. A. R. and of Daughters of 1812; sounding of taps, George Copeland Jr.

Six generations were present at this interesting event, and a total of 19 descendants of the couple, being four years old. Among those attending from Atlanta were Mrs. R. K. Rambo, Mrs. Lucius McConnell, Mrs. C. J. Sheehan, Mrs. C. D. Tebo, Miss Juanita Chisholm, Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Rankin, Mr. and Mrs. Vance Oliver Rankin Jr., Miss Vance Rankin, Miss Sunie May Rankin and William King Rankin.

2. AGGRESSIVELY PROMOTE YOUR PRODUCTS TO THE PUBLIC.

There is no longer any reasonable doubt that the public is beginning to shop again, and to look toward replacements for its worn-out possessions.

American industry must help the public to find the goods it needs.

The modern method is advertising. The American public looks to advertising for news of good merchandise and good values.

There has never been a time when the public was so alert for news, as now. Events have moved so rapidly that people would be completely ignorant of what is going on if they did not closely follow the press.

This tremendous public interest in news can be capitalized by American industry. And the way to do it is to place the news about a good value or a good product side by side with the other news of the world.

Very sincerely yours,
